Principales activités de votre société/institut

Novozymes is the world leader in bioinnovation. We work with our partners to innovate new solutions and rethink industries around the world. Our industrial enzymes, microorganisms and other proteins allow our customers to achieve more efficient use of raw materials, reduce energy consumption, replace traditional chemicals with more sustainable alternatives, and offer higher-quality products. We rethink everyday products every day.

Novozymes OneHealth will help people live healthier and better lives by rethinking tomorrow within human health and finding the one-in-a-trillion verifiable biology-based solutions that can be proven to solve profound consumer health challenges related to modern lifestyles.
